

B P COLLINS LLP - Privacy Policy

Introduction

Welcome to B P Collins LLP's privacy notice.

B P Collins LLP respects your privacy and is committed to protecting your personal data. This privacy notice will inform you as to how we look after your personal data when you visit our website (regardless of where you visit it from) and tell you about your privacy rights and how the law protects you.

This privacy notice is provided in a layered format so you can click through to the specific areas set out below. Alternatively, you can view the policy online here - <https://www.bpcollins.co.uk/info/privacy-policy>.

Please also use the Glossary to understand the meaning of some of the terms used in this privacy notice.

1. Important information and who we are

1.1. Purpose of this privacy notice

This privacy notice aims to give you information on how B P Collins LLP collects and processes your personal data through your use of this website or otherwise, including any data you may provide through this website or otherwise when you sign up to our newsletter, instruct us in a legal matter or otherwise interact with us.

This website is not intended for children and we do not knowingly collect data relating to children.

It is important that you read this privacy notice together with any other privacy notice or fair processing notice we may provide on specific occasions when we are collecting or processing personal data about you so that you are fully aware of how and why we are using your data. This privacy notice supplements the other notices and is not intended to override them.

1.2. Controller

B P Collins LLP is the controller and responsible for your personal data (collectively referred to as "B P Collins LLP", "we", "us" or "our" in this privacy notice).

We have appointed a data protection officer (DPO) who is responsible for overseeing questions in relation to this privacy notice. If you have any questions about this privacy notice, including any requests to exercise your legal rights (explained below), please contact the DPO using the details set out below.

Contact details

Our full details are:

Full name of legal entity:	B P Collins LLP
Name and title of current DPO:	Simon Deans, Senior Partner
Email address:	simon.deans@bpcollins.co.uk
Postal address:	20 Station Road, Gerrards Cross, Bucks SL9 8EL

You have the right to make a complaint at any time to the Information Commissioner's Office (ICO), the UK supervisory authority for data protection issues (<https://ico.org.uk>). We would, however, appreciate the opportunity to address your concerns before you approach the ICO and encourage you to contact us in the first instance. If you wish to make a complaint about how we have handled your personal data, please refer to our Complaints Procedure, which also explains how we handle complaints about our legal services: <https://www.bpcollins.co.uk/contact-us/complaints-procedure/>

1.3. Changes to the privacy notice and your duty to inform us of changes

This version was last updated on 16 September 2026 and historic versions can be obtained by contacting us.

The data protection law in the UK came into effect on 25 May 2018.

It is important that the personal data we hold about you is accurate and current. Please keep us informed if your personal data changes during your relationship with us.

1.4. Third-party links

This website may include links to third-party websites, plug-ins and applications. Clicking on those links or enabling those connections may allow third parties to collect or share data about you. We do not control these third-party websites and are not responsible for their privacy statements. When you leave our website, we encourage you to read the privacy notice of every website you visit.

2. The data we collect about you

Personal data, or personal information, means any information about an individual from which that person can be identified. It does not include data where the identity has been removed (anonymous data).

We may collect, use, store and transfer different kinds of personal data about you which we have grouped together as follows:

- (a). Identity Data includes first name, maiden name, last name, marital status, title, date of birth and gender.
- (b). Contact Data includes billing address, home address, email address and telephone numbers.
- (c). Financial Data includes bank account and payment card details.
- (d). Transaction Data includes details about payments to and from you and other details of services you have purchased from us.
- (e). Technical Data includes internet protocol (IP) address, browser type and version, time zone setting and location, browser plug-in types and versions, operating system and platform and other technology on the devices you use to access this website.
- (f). Profile Data includes your interests, preferences, feedback and survey responses.
- (g). Usage Data includes information about how you use our website, products and services.
- (h). Marketing and Communications Data includes your preferences in receiving marketing from us and our third parties and your communication preferences.

We also collect, use and share Aggregated Data such as statistical or demographic data for any purpose. Aggregated Data may be derived from your personal data but is not considered personal data in law as this data does not directly or indirectly reveal your identity. For example, we may aggregate your Usage Data to calculate the percentage of users accessing a specific website feature. However, if we combine or connect Aggregated Data with your personal data so that it can directly or indirectly identify you, we treat the combined data as personal data which will be used in accordance with this privacy notice.

We do not collect any Special Categories of Personal Data about you through our website (this includes details about your race or ethnicity, religious or philosophical beliefs, sex life, sexual orientation, political opinions, trade union membership, information about your health and genetic and biometric data), nor do we collect any information about criminal convictions and offences. However, we may sometimes collect special categories of personal data if it is relevant for the purposes of the work you have asked us to carry out or where it is required to enable us to perform our services in a particular legal case on which you instruct us.

2.1. If you fail to provide personal data

Where we need to collect personal data by law, or under the terms of an engagement or contract we have with you and you fail to provide that data when requested, we may not be able to perform the engagement or contract we have or are trying to enter into with you (for example, to provide you with our services). In this case, we may have to cancel a service you have with us but we will notify you if this is the case at the time.

3. How is your personal data collected?

We use different methods to collect data from and about you including through:

- 3.1. Direct interactions. You may give us your Identity, Contact and Financial Data by filling in forms or by corresponding with us by post, phone, email or otherwise. This includes personal data you provide when you:
 - (a). enquire about or ask us to provide our services;
 - (b). subscribe to our services or publications;
 - (c). request marketing to be sent to you;
 - (d). enter a competition, promotion or survey; or
 - (e). give us some feedback.
- 3.2. Automated technologies or interactions. As you interact with our website, we may automatically collect Technical Data about your equipment, browsing actions and patterns. We collect this personal data by using cookies, server logs and other similar technologies. We may also receive Technical Data about you if you visit other websites employing our cookies. Please see our cookie policy (<https://www.bpcollins.co.uk/info/cookie-policy>) for further details.
- 3.3. Third parties or publicly available sources. We may receive personal data about you from various reputable third parties and public sources as set out below:
- 3.4. Technical Data from the following parties:
 - analytics providers (such as Google based outside the EU and CANDDi based inside the EU); and
 - our website hosts and IT support providers (based inside the EU).
- 3.5. Contact, Financial and Transaction Data from providers of technical, payment and delivery services (such as National Westminster Bank plc based inside the EU).
- 3.6. Identity and Contact Data from data brokers or aggregators (such as Experian based inside the EU).
- 3.7. Identity and Contact Data from publicly available sources (such as Companies House, HM Land Registry and the Electoral Register based inside the EU).

4. How we use your personal data

We will only use your personal data when the law allows us to. Most commonly, we will use your personal data in the following circumstances:

- Where we need to perform the contract or engagement we are about to enter into or have entered into with you.
- Where it is necessary for our legitimate interests (or those of a third party) and your interests and fundamental rights do not override those interests.
- Where we need to comply with a legal or regulatory obligation.

Generally we do not rely on consent as a legal basis for processing your personal data other than in relation to sending third party direct marketing communications to you via email or text message. You have the right to withdraw consent to marketing at any time by emailing gdpr@bpcollins.co.uk

4.1. Purposes for which we will use your personal data

We have set out below, in a table format, a description of all the ways we plan to use your personal data, and which of the legal bases we rely on to do so. We have also identified what our legitimate interests are where appropriate.

Note that we may process your personal data for more than one lawful ground depending on the specific purpose for which we are using your data. Please email gdpr@bpcollins.co.uk if you need details about the specific legal ground we are relying on to process your personal data where more than one ground has been set out in the table below.

4.2. Marketing

We strive to provide you with choices regarding certain personal data uses, particularly around marketing and advertising. We have established a marketing preference centre where you can view and make certain decisions about your personal data use. In short, the marketing preference centre sets out the following personal data control mechanisms:

4.3. Promotional offers from us

We may use your Identity, Contact, Technical, Usage and Profile Data to form a view on what we think you may want or need, or what may be of interest to you. This is how we decide which services and offers may be relevant for you (we call this marketing).

You will receive marketing communications from us if you have requested information from us or purchased services from us or if you have otherwise explicitly consented to us sending them to you and, in each case, you have not opted out of receiving that marketing.

4.4. Third-party marketing

We will obtain your express opt-in consent before we share your personal data with any company outside B P Collins LLP for marketing purposes.

4.5. Opting out

You can ask us or third parties to stop sending you marketing messages at any time by logging into the website and checking or unchecking relevant boxes to adjust your marketing preferences or by following the opt-out links on any marketing message sent to you or by emailing gdpr@bpcollins.co.uk at any time.

Where you opt out of receiving these marketing messages, this will not apply to personal data provided to us as a result of a service purchase, service experience or other transactions.

4.6. Cookies

You can set your browser to refuse all or some browser cookies, or to alert you when websites set or access cookies. If you disable or refuse cookies, please note that some parts of this website may become inaccessible or not function properly. For more information about the cookies we use, please see our cookie policy (<https://www.bpcollins.co.uk/info/cookie-policy>).

4.7. Change of purpose

We will only use your personal data for the purposes for which we collected it, unless we reasonably consider that we need to use it for another reason and that reason is compatible with the original purpose. If you wish to get an explanation as to how the processing for the new purpose is compatible with the original purpose, please email gdpr@bpcollins.co.uk. If we need to use your personal data for an unrelated purpose, we will notify you and we will explain the legal basis which allows us to do so.

Please note that we may process your personal data without your knowledge or consent, in compliance with the above rules, where this is required or permitted by law.

4.8. Use of artificial intelligence-enabled tools

We may use carefully controlled artificial intelligence-enabled tools to support certain administrative and legal tasks, such as document review, research support and drafting assistance.

These tools do not replace professional legal judgment. All advice and work product is reviewed and approved by a qualified legal professional.

Any use of artificial intelligence is subject to the same duties of confidentiality, data protection and professional standards that apply to all client work. Client information is not used to train artificial intelligence systems, and we do not rely on automated decision-making when providing legal advice or services.

4.9. Disclosures of your personal data

We may have to share your personal data with the parties set out below for the purposes set out in the table in Paragraph 4 above.

- (a). Internal Third Parties as set out in the Glossary below.
- (b). External Third Parties as set out in the Glossary below.
- (c). Specific third parties listed in the table in Paragraph 4 above.
- (d). Third parties to whom we may choose to sell, transfer, or merge parts of our business or our assets. Alternatively, we may seek to acquire other businesses or merge with them. If a change happens to our business, then the new owners may use your personal data in the same way as set out in this privacy notice.

We require all third parties to respect the security of your personal data and to treat it in accordance with the law. We do not allow our third-party service providers to use your personal data for their own purposes and only permit them to process your personal data for specified purposes and in accordance with our instructions.

4.10. International transfers

We do not transfer your personal data outside the European Economic Area (EEA) unless required in connection with a legal matter we are conducting on your behalf and only then with your express consent.

When we transfer your personal data out of the EEA, we ensure a similar degree of protection is afforded to it by ensuring at least one of the following safeguards is implemented:

- (a). We will only transfer your personal data to countries that have been deemed to provide an adequate level of protection for personal data by the European Commission. For further details, see European Commission: Adequacy of the protection of personal data in non-EU countries.

- (b). Where we use certain service providers, we may use specific contracts approved by the European Commission which give personal data the same protection it has in Europe. For further details, see European Commission: Model contracts for the transfer of personal data to third countries.
- (c). Where we use providers based in the US, we may transfer data to them if they are part of the Privacy Shield which requires them to provide similar protection to personal data shared between the Europe and the US. For further details, see European Commission: EU-US Privacy Shield.

Please email gdpr@bpcollins.co.uk if you want further information on the specific mechanism used by us when transferring your personal data out of the EEA.

4.11. Automated decision making

We do not currently use systems for automated decision-making in relation to your personal data.

4.12. Data security

We have put in place appropriate security measures to prevent your personal data from being accidentally lost, used or accessed in an unauthorised way, altered or disclosed. In addition, we limit access to your personal data to those employees, agents, contractors and other third parties who have a business need to know. They will only process your personal data on our instructions and they are subject to a duty of confidentiality.

We have put in place procedures to deal with any suspected personal data breach and will notify you and any applicable regulator of a breach where we are legally required to do so.

5. Data retention

5.1. How long will you use my personal data for?

We will only retain your personal data for as long as necessary to fulfil the purposes we collected it for, including for the purposes of satisfying any legal, accounting, or reporting requirements.

To determine the appropriate retention period for personal data of clients and contacts, we consider the amount, nature, and sensitivity of the personal data, the potential risk of harm from unauthorised use or disclosure of your personal data, the purposes for which we process your personal data and whether we can achieve those purposes through other means, and the applicable legal requirements.

By law we have to keep basic information about our clients (including Contact, Identity, Financial and Transaction Data) for six years after they cease being clients for tax purposes. In other instances we have a legal obligation to retain personal data in relation to work we have done on your behalf for lengths of time appropriate to the type of work carried out or services provided (which is set out in our terms of engagement for each matter we deal with on your behalf).

In some circumstances you can ask us to delete your data: see 'request erasure' below for further information.

In some circumstances we may anonymise your personal data (so that it can no longer be associated with you) for research or statistical purposes in which case we may use this information indefinitely without further notice to you.

5.2. Your legal rights

Under certain circumstances, you have rights under data protection laws in relation to your personal data.

Please click on the links below to find out more about these rights:

- (a). Request access to your personal data - <https://ico.org.uk/your-data-matters/your-right-to-get-copies-of-your-data/>
- (b). Request correction of your personal data - <https://ico.org.uk/for-organisations/guide-to-data-protection/guide-to-the-general-data-protection-regulation-gdpr/individual-rights/right-to-rectification/>

- (c). Request erasure of your personal data - <https://ico.org.uk/for-organisations/guide-to-data-protection/guide-to-the-general-data-protection-regulation-gdpr/individual-rights/right-to-erasure/>
- (d). Object to processing of your personal data - <https://ico.org.uk/for-organisations/guide-to-data-protection/guide-to-the-general-data-protection-regulation-gdpr/individual-rights/right-to-object/>
- (e). Request restriction of processing your personal data - <https://ico.org.uk/for-organisations/guide-to-data-protection/guide-to-the-general-data-protection-regulation-gdpr/individual-rights/right-to-restrict-processing/>
- (f). Request transfer of your personal data - <https://ico.org.uk/for-organisations/guide-to-data-protection/guide-to-the-general-data-protection-regulation-gdpr/individual-rights/right-to-data-portability/>
- (g). Right to withdraw consent - <https://ico.org.uk/for-organisations/guide-to-data-protection/guide-to-the-general-data-protection-regulation-gdpr/lawful-basis-for-processing/consent/>

If you wish to exercise any of the rights set out above, please email gdpr@bpcollins.co.uk

5.3. No fee usually required

You will not have to pay a fee to access your personal data (or to exercise any of the other rights). However, we may charge a reasonable fee if your request is clearly unfounded, repetitive or excessive. Alternatively, we may refuse to comply with your request in these circumstances.

5.4. What we may need from you

We may need to request specific information from you to help us confirm your identity and ensure your right to access your personal data (or to exercise any of your other rights). This is a security measure to ensure that personal data is not disclosed to any person who has no right to receive it. We may also contact you to ask you for further information in relation to your request to speed up our response.

5.5. Time limit to respond

We try to respond to all legitimate requests within one month. Occasionally it may take us longer than a month if your request is particularly complex or you have made a number of requests. In this case, we will notify you and keep you updated.

5.6. Alternative formats

If it would be helpful to have this notice provided in another format (for example: audio, braille) please contact us on gdpr@bpcollins.co.uk

6. Glossary

6.1. LAWFUL BASIS

- (a). Legitimate Interest means the interest of our business in conducting and managing our business to enable us to give you the best service/product and the best and most secure experience. We make sure we consider and balance any potential impact on you (both positive and negative) and your rights before we process your personal data for our legitimate interests. We do not use your personal data for activities where our interests are overridden by the impact on you (unless we have your consent or are otherwise required or permitted to by law). You can obtain further information about how we assess our legitimate interests against any potential impact on you in respect of specific activities by emailing gdpr@bpcollins.co.uk
- (b). Performance of Contract means processing your data where it is necessary for the performance of a contract to which you are a party or to take steps at your request before entering into such a contract.
- (c). Comply with a legal or regulatory obligation means processing your personal data where it is necessary for compliance with a legal or regulatory obligation that we are subject to.

6.2. THIRD PARTIES

External Third Parties

- (a). Service providers acting as processors based in the EEA who provide IT and system administration services.
- (b). Professional advisers acting as processors or joint controllers including lawyers, bankers, auditors and insurers based abroad who provide consultancy, banking, legal, insurance and accounting services where necessary to support the services we are providing to you.
- (c). HM Revenue & Customs, HM Land Registry, Companies House and regulators and other authorities acting as processors or joint controllers based in the United Kingdom who require reporting of processing activities in certain circumstances.
- (d). Providers of Artificial Intelligence (AI) tools and services, including third-party AI platforms, utilised by us to enhance delivery of our legal services.
- (e). To combat fraud, financial crime and sanctions, we may share your data with service providers who assist with money laundering checks (eg. First AML), credit risk reduction, and similar security measures. This may include financial institutions, credit reference agencies (eg. Experian, Creditsafe), and regulatory bodies.

6.3. YOUR LEGAL RIGHTS

You have the right to:

- (a). Request access to your personal data (commonly known as a "data subject access request"). This enables you to receive a copy of the personal data we hold about you and to check that we are lawfully processing it.
- (b). Request correction of the personal data that we hold about you. This enables you to have any incomplete or inaccurate data we hold about you corrected, though we may need to verify the accuracy of the new data you provide to us.
- (c). Request erasure of your personal data. This enables you to ask us to delete or remove personal data where there is no good reason for us continuing to process it. You also have the right to ask us to delete or remove your personal data where you have successfully exercised your right to object to processing (see below), where we may have processed your information unlawfully or where we are required to erase your personal data to comply with local law. Note, however, that we may not always be able to comply with your request of erasure for specific legal reasons which will be notified to you, if applicable, at the time of your request.
- (d). Object to processing of your personal data where we are relying on a legitimate interest (or those of a third party) and there is something about your particular situation which makes you want to object to processing on this ground as you feel it impacts on your fundamental rights and freedoms.

You also have the right to object where we are processing your personal data for direct marketing purposes. In some cases, we may demonstrate that we have compelling legitimate grounds to process your information which override your rights and freedoms.

- (e). Request restriction of processing of your personal data. This enables you to ask us to suspend the processing of your personal data in the following scenarios: (a) if you want us to establish the data's accuracy; (b) where our use of the data is unlawful but you do not want us to erase it; (c) where you need us to hold the data even if we no longer require it as you need it to establish, exercise or defend legal claims; or (d) you have objected to our use of your data but we need to verify whether we have overriding legitimate grounds to use it.
- (f). Request the transfer of your personal data to you or to a third party. We will provide to you, or a third party you have chosen, your personal data in a structured, commonly used, machine-readable format. Note that this right only applies to automated information which you initially provided consent for us to use or where we used the information to perform a contract with you.
- (g). Withdraw consent at any time where we are relying on consent to process your personal data. However, this will not affect the lawfulness of any processing carried out before you withdraw your consent. If you withdraw your consent, we may not be able to provide certain products or services to you. We will advise you if this is the case at the time you withdraw your consent.
